Hatch-Adams Carnival Makes
Initial Entrance in Fanfare of Music.

Manchester Bureau, Times-Dispatch.
No. 1102 Hull Street.

Amid the fanfare of trumpets, the beating of drums and the sounds of martial music, the Hatch-Adams Carnival, under the auspices of the Manchester Fire Department last night gave the initial performance of its large and varied program. Fully 6,000 people turned out to witness the opening scenes of the carnival. The streets were packed to overflowing with all colors, all sizes and all ages. Manchester is lit up from one end to the other, gorgeous bunting is everywhere displayed and the whole city presents one grand scene of life and color. Never before in its history, many say, has Manchester been the scene of so much gaiety or been filled with denser throngs of people.

The different shows are all placed and lined up the Hull street, nearly its whole length. There are shows of every kind, booths of all classes and descriptions, scenic displays of great beauty, a Ferris Wheel and the more prosaic lunch counters. Everything in short, that the Carnival Company has advertised to be here and there is no room for disappointment. The big Roman Coliseum was last night the great center of attraction. Crowds witnessed the star acrobatic performance here displayed and the skillful contortions of the Japanese acrobats were especially greeted with applause. The great Train Robbery was packed to overflowing at each performance. The Girls in Red, Old Plantation, Dog and Ponies and Ferris Wheel, good, refined shows, were all packed with merry, enthusiastic sight-seers. The management of the carnival guarantee everything to be of first-class order and without the slightest hint of immorality. Everything is clean and conducted with the utmost propriety. The carnival is of huge proportions. There are 200 people employed and it carries besides a uniformed band of twelve pieces.

To-night, besides the usual programme, there will be eight big features, including the famous Harry Six, who will make his startling world renowned high dives. To-morrow night will be the occasion of the big parade. The carnival band will head the list, then will come the firemen in uniform and Balmis Klan with three Richmond lodges will bring up the rear. The officers of the Klan will be uniformed in red fez and yellow gowns and the members will wear the regulation dress.

William Jackson Walton.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
JACKSON, VA., Sept. 26.—Mr. William Jackson Walton, a very prominent citizen of Louisa, died at his home near here Friday morning aged seventy-one. He was paralyzed. His general health was good and he was able to walk until the morning of his death, which ended his life in a short time.

At old Delany College he graduated with his honors. His wife followed at John Walton, of this county. He married Miss Sallie Massie Meredith, a granddaughter of the late Dr. William Meredith who at that time paid the largest salary of any man in Louisa. Mr. Walton, before the war, engaged very exclusively in the production and manufacture of iron. After the war he was for many years superintendent of public schools in Louisa. He was a fine public speaker, although he would never exercise his talent in that respect, except in local debating society, and in his church, of which he had been a constant member nearly all his life.

John P. Waggoner.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
ROANOKE, VA., Sept. 26.—Mr. John P. Waggoner, foreman of the paint department of the shops and president of the city school superintendent, died at his home this morning from apoplexy, aged fifty-five years. He had passed a sleepless night and went down stairs to get his breakfast. His wife followed a few minutes later and found him lying in the doorway dying. He was a native of Waynesboro, Pa., and had been in the paint shops at Lambert's Point, Shenandoah and other points. He is survived by his wife and five children.

Captain William H. Rutledge.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

OBITUARY OF MRS. M. J. OLD.

A strangely attractive figure, a gracious personality, a bright and vigorous intellect vanished when Mrs. M. J. Old died at Brookville, Canada, Wednesday afternoon, August 31, 1904.

Born February 6, 1835, died August 31, 1904, in her seventieth year; she was the granddaughter of Major Joseph Eggleston, an officer of Lee's Legion (Light Horse Harry), during the American Revolution, and the most prominent member of that distinguished Eggleston name in Virginia. Her young life was spent at Eggleston in Amelia county, Va., under the tender care of her parents, Mr. Frank Eggleston and Mrs. Judy Eggleston. She was a Presbyterian in religion and took a deep and active interest in all that pertained to that faith. She breathed from her birth an atmosphere of culture and distinction. She will be remembered with genuine affection and regret by more people than many women who have died amid noisy sorrow and perfunctory lamentation. It is a good thing for any family to have a memory to live on, and that she never harmed any human being by word or deed, and that is what every one who knew her can say of the subject of this sketch.

She belonged to the old South, the South of the great land aristocracy of gentle birth, high breeding and chivalrous practices and instincts. She leaves with us a memory full of grace, an example worthy of all honor and emulation. Straightforward and loyal, proud and well bred she made her peace with God and man, and so triumphs over death and the grave. She so lived that there is now a good place left for some one else to fill.

Just before the war (1860) she married Mr. William Old, of Powhatan county, Va., a man of mark and distinction in the Old Dominion; educated for the law, he was in early life member of the Virginia House of Delegates; then member of the State Senate; afterwards editor-in-chief of the Richmond Examiner; then a staff officer through the Confederate War, and in 1894, under Cleveland's administration, he was sent to the United States consular to Brockville, Canada. He died several years ago.

Prior to leaving her home in Virginia, Mrs. Old died soon after her husband was appointed United States consul at Brockville, she adopted a young relative, Miss Mary Saunders. She gave her the loving care, and received from her the grateful affection of a devoted daughter.

Her remains were brought back to Virginia from Canada and interred by the side of her parents in the cemetery at Grub Hill, near her old home.

Yours truly,

Movement. The sermon was impressive and

OUTLAWS UNDER TRIAL

(By Associated Press.)
M'CLINNY, FLA., Sept. 26.—The twenty-one men charged with the numerous crimes around Baker, arrived to-day. The train was stopped half a mile below the depot and the prisoners and military guards marched into town much to the disappointment of the people who had gathered at the depot. The prisoners were lodged in the county jail, a brick structure and a military guard was posted. The preliminary hearing probably will take three days. Governor Jennings, who was here to-day will grant the requisition on Governor Terrell, of Georgia, for the larry and Charles James M. Toler, who are held here for complicity in the murder committed by the mob.

DOUKHOBORS WANT WARMER CLIMATE

(By Associated Press.)
WINNIPEG, MANITOBA, September 26.—Word has been received from a Doukhobor colony near Saskatoon, N. W. T., that a large body of Doukhobors has started on a march for the United States. This time the Doukhobors are looking for Jesus but are on the trek for a warmer climate. The affair is causing much excitement, as it is known to what extremes these people will go to obtain their ends. It is feared they have started on the longest pilgrimage they have ever had. The Doukhobors mounted police is rushing to the scene.

REIGN OF TERROR.

Robbers Ply Their Nefarious
Calling With Impunity.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NORFOLK, VA., Sept. 26.—Lawlessness reigns in Norfolk and the police force appear unable to check the robberies that have become a nightly occurrence. The Sabbath is not observed by the marauders, who yesterday visited several business houses of the city and carried off a large amount of money. The police have nothing to give out regarding developments in the pursuit of the robbers. The police are in a wretched frame of mind.

The funeral of the murdered man was held at the Chapel of the Sacred Heart at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The service was conducted by Rev. Father H. J. Dalton, assisted by Rev. Father J. J. Dalton. The interment was in St. Mary's Catholic Cemetery.

A BRUTAL MURDER.

Riddled Victim With Bullets and Then Crushed Head With Rock.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
BRISTOL, TENN., September 20.—News of a tragedy in which Jeff Church was shot to death by James Campbell, alias James Campbell and Squire J. H. Shoun was seriously cut, comes from Johnson county, Tenn. The tragedy happened near Pandera, a distillery some eight miles from Mountain City.

Fifteen empty cartridges were found on the ground and the body of Church was completely riddled with bullet holes and his skull crushed. It is stated that Rankins went back to his victim after the shooting and seeing he was still alive, crushed his skull with a rock. The trouble grew out of an old feud. Rankins was arrested and lodged in jail.

Shoun was also arrested, but his condition was too serious to remove him to the jail, and a guard was placed over him at his home.

CAPT. WOODS TO ASSIST

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., September 26.—Captain Micalah Woods decided to-day to yield to the hundreds of men and women in Charlottesville and Albemarle county, who desired him to assist the Commonwealth and Mr. R. S. Ker in the prosecution, and consented to aid in the case against ex-Mayor J. Samuel McCue, accused of wife-murder.

It is understood that Captain Woods receives no fee in the prosecution of the case; that he accepts solely at the instance of his fellow-citizens; that he neglects a lucrative law business; that he sacrifices personal pleasure, having planned an extended trip just at this time to the St. Louis Exposition, and that he has good personal reasons for preferring to remain a spectator or a hearer rather than a participant.

The morning after the murder, it is said, the police were working on a clue based on a threat made by a man living near Earlysville, in that county, to get even with the accused for some reason. This man came to Charlottesville last night to explain to the Commonwealth's attorney why he was brought under suspicion. He had already established an alibi. McCue's attorneys, it is said, have investigated the records at the insane asylum in Staunton, with a view to establishing insanity in the McCue family.

RICHMONDER KILLED.

Soldier in Philippines Fatally
Wounded in Battle.

Information has been received here of the death from wounds received in battle on September 23 of Robert W. Toler, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Toler, who live at No. 2108 West Cary Street. The deceased was forty-two years of age. He was a widower with one child, a thirteen-year-old inmate of the Methodist orphanage, whose mother died ten or eleven years ago.

Besides his parents the soldier is survived by his sister, Mrs. W. S. Doughty, and his brother, James M. of Philadelphia; John J. of New York; Aubrey L. of Richmond, and C. F. of Baltimore. It is expected that the body of Toler will be brought to this country in a few weeks aboard a government transport. The body will probably be buried at the expense of the government cemetery, unless the relatives desire interment elsewhere.

JAMES BAILEY HUNG.

Unique Religious Service at the Gallows.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
COURTLAND, VA., Sept. 26.—James Bailey, colored, who at the July term of the Circuit Court of Southampton was convicted of murder in the first degree for the killing of Cad. Williams, colored, paid the penalty of his crime upon the gallows here to-day. He proceeded to the scaffold in charge of Constables Bryant and Colles and Sergeant Bell. As he ascended the steps to the gallows he was bitterly and exclaimed: "Lord, have mercy on me!" A male quartet, from Zion A. M. E. Church then sang "God Be With You Till We Meet Again," and Rev. O. G. Jenkins then offered a fervent prayer.

At 10:30 o'clock A. M. the trap was sprung, and the soul of the condemned criminal was launched into eternity. Fourteen minutes thereafter he was pronounced dead by Drs. J. Emmett Sebrell and E. F. East. The body was then taken down and placed in a coffin and shipped to his family at Wake Forest, N. C.
